

10-16-1953

The Ledger and Times, October 16, 1953

The Ledger and Times

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.murraystate.edu/tlt>

---

Recommended Citation

The Ledger and Times, "The Ledger and Times, October 16, 1953" (1953). The Ledger & Times. 1427.
<https://digitalcommons.murraystate.edu/tlt/1427>

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspapers at Murray State's Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Ledger & Times by an authorized administrator of Murray State's Digital Commons. For more information, please contact msu.digitalcommons@murraystate.edu.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1953

The fluorescent fixture used over the study desk should measure 25 inches long and have two 20 watt fluorescent lamps. This fixture should be mounted on the wall so that its center is 9 inches from the front of the desk and 15 inches above the desk top. It gives twice the amount of light that the table and wall lamps give, making it an excellent source of light for long hours of study or close work.

When you give your child lighting by one of these methods, you are helping to make his study easier and less tiring. And it's easy to do when you follow the recipe.

Have you read the Classified Ads today?

Food Counts D SPECIALS!

19c lb.
59c lb.
39c lb.
10c lb.
29c lb.
28c lb.
29c lb.
25c
25c doz.
35c doz.
29c
25c

remodeling and are better come out and shop. We welcome.

ROBERTS
SELF-SERVICE GROCERY
Call 874
Free Delivery Daily

AR TIAC!

Proves It!

Pontiac's extra value is just a few dollars more smallest, lowest-priced Pontiac ranks with the year-in and year-out in blue. That's our final word, dollar for dollar, you get a Pontiac. Now come in this handsome Pontiac (the best buy for you, too!)

Selected As Best All Round Kentucky Community Newspaper for 1947

THE LEDGER & TIMES

United Press

YOUR PROGRESSIVE HOME NEWSPAPER
IN ITS 74th YEAR

Murray, Ky., Friday Afternoon, October 16, 1953

MURRAY POPULATION - - - 8,000

Vol. XXIV; No. 245

ATTEMPT MADE TO ORGANIZE PLANT

Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

We examined the pockets of the five year old the other day and was surprised at the quantity and quality of the contents.

The principal object and the one that took up the most room was a length of chain about one foot long. The links were being about one and one half inches in length and fairly heavy.

This object took practically all the room in his right pocket.

In the other pocket was an old with the little window broken it an insulator, the kind formerly used on radio aerials when folks had to have them to bear anything, and two small wooden spoons.

We asked him why he went to the effort to carry such stuff around with him all the time and we were greeted with a look of wonderment as if to say what else is there to carry around.

Since becoming five this month he is hardly able to handle it and takes more psychology than usual to get results.

Smallest got hit in the head with a rock last week and bled for a while.

More blood this week when the seven year old almost yanked a wart off his arm in a fall.

We don't know why the Red Cross won't take blood from a kid. They seem to be able to lose quite a lot of it without any obvious harm. We spill enough blood around the house in a week to mount to quite a lot.

We built a fence around our Spider Lily, and they show already that we'll have a bumper crop of blooms next year. The dogs and kids gave them a hard way to go this year.

Rev. Paul Lyles Made Paris District Youth Rally Head

Louisville, Ky.—The Rev. Paul Lyles of Murray, has been appointed Paris District youth rally chairman for the forthcoming Methodist "Spiritual Life Revival," it was announced here today by Bishop William T. Watkins.

The united revival, involving the Methodist churches of Kentucky and Western Tennessee, will be conducted in two units. The East Unit, including the Kentucky Conference of the church and the Campbellsville and the two Louisville districts of the Louisville Conference, will be October 23-30. The West Unit, including the Memphis Conference and the Henderson, Hopkinsville, Bowling Green, and Owensboro districts of the Louisville Conference, will be November 13-20.

Purpose of the revival is to seek greater observance of the holy habits of the spiritual life by the approximately 300,000 Methodists in Kentucky and Western Tennessee.

Among the habits to be emphasized will be daily Bible reading, regular church attendance, prayer, family devotion, and tithing.

Bishop Watkins is general chairman of the united effort. He is in charge of The Methodist Church in Kentucky and Western Tennessee.

James Glasgow To Sing In Choir

James G. Glasgow, formerly of Murray, Ky., junior, has been selected to sing bass in the 52-voice Philharmonic Choir at Georgia Teachers College.

Mr. Glasgow, graduate of Murray High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Glasgow of Veterans Hospital, Dublin, Ga.

No Relief In Sight For State

Frankfort, Oct. 16 (AP)—There was no relief in sight today in Kentucky's current drought when the five-day forecast issued at Louisville sounded like a broken record—"Little or no rainfall," it said.

The Department of Conservation yesterday banned picnicking and camping in all state parks because of the extreme fire danger. The ban will be in effect for the duration of forest-fire emergency. Hunting already has been banned.

Eight forest fires—six new ones and two old ones—burned over 420 acres of state timberland yesterday in six counties.

Counties with forest fires were Breathitt, Knox, Pike, Floyd, Caldwell and Carter.

In addition to little or no rainfall, the five-day forecast called for an average temperature six degrees higher than the 57-degree normal in the state.

Murray High And Madisonville Meet At 7:30

Murray High and Madisonville tonight at 7:30 p. m. at Holland Stadium in one of the featured games of the week. Both teams are planning for the conference title and a loss tonight by Madisonville would mean they would be out of the race.

Murray High's chances would be lessened, however they would still be in the running since they have five victories to no defeats.

Buchanan will play tonight, according to Coach Holland. He has missed the last three games with an arm injury. Most of the boys are in good shape. Holland said, and their spirits are high.

A win tonight by the Tigers would put them in an enviable position for the conference title and would leave only Hopkinsville and Paris to hurdle for the remainder of the season.

Money Is Allocated For MSC Gym

Frankfort, Ky.—The Property and Buildings Commission allocated nearly one million dollars for construction projects yesterday but deferred action on some others until more money is available.

W. T. Judy, executive director, called it the largest allocation in recent months and said another million in commission funds was retained as a cushion to fall back on if this year's general fund revenues fail to reach expectations. He also revealed about $600,000 was being held for emergency uses.

Some allocations were for Eastern Kentucky projects which said Gov. Lawrence Wetherby, were in keeping with his intentions of doing everything possible to aid economic development there. He said Eastern Kentucky had been hit hard by a drop in coal business.

After the commission met, the governor conferred with Revenue and Finance Department officials but declined to elaborate on the session. He did reveal that it was a "preliminary meeting in which the state's whole fiscal picture" was explored.

Kentucky's general fund collections ran eight per cent under estimates for the July-Sept. period.

Allocations announced by Judy included:

- $100,000 for Murray State College toward completion of a gym. While previously allotted, funds were held up while the college sought ways to raise money.

MURRAY HIGH TO HAVE HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL

Witches, Goblins and Ghosts will greet those who attend the annual Halloween Carnival of the senior class of the Murray High School Saturday night, October 31.

The public is invited to come and see the "House of Horrors" and other things of interest.

James Lassiter Addresses Rotarians

Senator James Lassiter addressed the Murray Rotary Club yesterday at their regular meeting. Senator Lassiter spoke on the purpose and organization of the Southern Region Education Board, a meeting of which, he recently attended in Daytona Beach, Florida.

Lassiter told Rotarians that the purpose of the organization is to allow states to cooperate with one another to insure that students in the participating states receive education they desire, especially as it pertained to specialized training courses.

He gave as an example the course prescribed for Veterinarians Kentucky does not have a school which they might attend, but the state of Georgia has. The state will pay the state of Georgia, he said, to accept the Kentucky student, thereby giving the Kentucky student the opportunity he wants and allowing the state of Georgia to build its school into a better one. The same situation would prevail if a student from another state wished to attend a specialized Kentucky institution.

This arrangement was developed, he said, when it was found that states having specialized courses were too crowded to accept outside students. With this arrangement, he said, the amount of money for the building of the necessary schools of their own, he said.

This is a cheaper method of giving the students the opportunity to attend the courses than for each state to send huge amounts of money for the building of the necessary schools of their own, he said.

He was introduced by Hall McCusick.

Sam Hudgins New Manager Of Store

Sam Hudgins has been made manager of the Larry Kerley Company according to an announcement today by Larry Kerley owner of the concern.

Mr. Kerley said that he has named a manager for his store because of the extensive demands of the business.

The following were extended invitations to the breakfast by Mr. Foster:

McCracken County—John Macdonald, Jr., Bill Rotterger, Fred Nagel, C. A. Robertson, Louis Kitchhoff, Tom Paxton, Curt Seward, Howard Woodall, Mallory Edwards, Al Hughes, George Brown, Henry Brady and Sheriff Babin.

James F. Phillips With US. Air Force

Airman Third Class James F. Phillips is now serving with the U. S. Air Force at the Williams Air Force Base at Chandler, Arizona.

Phillips is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Phillips of Hazel, Route Three. He is a graduate of Hazel High School.

The young man entered the service February 2, 1953, and took his basic training at the Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

Mr. Hudgins was formerly with the retail branch of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company and is well known here in Murray. He was born in West Helena, Arkansas and was raised in Jackson, Tennessee where he graduated from Lambuth College in 1950. He is married to the former Miss Ethelene Mathis of Jackson and they have two children, Sylvia, age four, and Carol Ann, age one month.

Rev. Francis To Preside At Conclave

Rev. Tom Francis will have charge of the principal part of the Blood River Association's Royal Ambassador Conclave to be held in the Memorial Baptist Church at 7:00 o'clock this Saturday night.

All boys, age nine through 16, are especially urged to attend.

Scouters Plan Four Rivers Council Campaign

Missionary To Speak Here

Rev. Tom Francis, missionary to Palestine, will be the speaker at both the morning and evening services at the Memorial Baptist Church Sunday, October 18, according to an announcement made today.

The guest missionary has spent the past five years in Palestine and will tell of the rebirth of Israel at the morning service at 10:30. At the evening service at 7:30 Rev. Francis will show slides that were taken while he was in Palestine.

The public is urged to attend these services. The church pastor, Rev. S. E. Byler, is conducting a revival meeting in New Lebanon, Ohio.

George Hart Named To Head Drive

W. F. "Willie" Foster, President of the Merit Clothing Company of Mayfield, along with fifty Scouts and Scout Leaders from the 10 counties comprising the Four Rivers Council attended a "kick-off" breakfast at the Hall Hotel in Mayfield recently preparatory to a finance campaign to raise $34,000 for Scouting next year.

October 20 has been set as the date for the Kentucky Coordinated Boy Scout Finance Campaign. On that date all Boy Scout Councils over the State will stage their finance drives.

W. F. Foster, of Mayfield, will serve as general chairman of the Four Rivers Boy Scout Council campaign. Mr. Foster presided at the breakfast.

Robert Billington, Cincinnati, Ohio, Region Four (Kentucky, Ohio, W. Va.) Regional Scout Executive, brought the group an inspiring message on the need for Scouting and the many, many benefits derived from this outstanding youth program.

The meeting was similar to a luncheon given at the Executive mansion in Frankfort by Gov. Lawrence Wetherby, which was attended by the Chairman of the various Boy Scout Councils in the State.

Pheasant Shoot Planned Saturday And Sunday

The Calloway County Conservation Club is sponsoring a large scale two-day pheasant shoot Saturday and Sunday, October 17 and 18. The shooting contests will be held at the Irvin Cobb Resort.

Shooting will begin each day at 9:00 a. m. and continue all day. Both still targets and clay pigeons will be used. Shooters may shoot at the one they choose. Twelve men will compete in each contest using still targets. The price on still targets will be 50¢ per shooter. All types of shotgun ammunition will be available on the grounds. The clay pigeon shooters will be charged $1.00 to compete and the club does not charge for the targets used. Five persons will compete in each heat of the pigeon shoot.

Price Support On Corn $1.69

Price support loan on 1953-crop corn for Calloway County is $1.69 a bushel and is available to Calloway County growers on both farm and warehouse stored corn, Clarence L. Miller, chairman, said here today.

These rates are for corn which, except for moisture content, grades U. S. No. 3 or better, or corn which would grade No. 3 but for the factor of test weight which reduces it to No. 4.

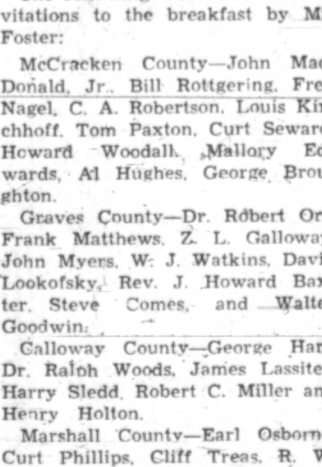

These are the same as price support loan rates for 1952-crop corn and are based on the national average price support rate of $1.60 a bushel announced October 5 by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The national average rate for the 1953 crop, which reflects 90 percent of the October 1 parity price for corn, is the same as the national average rate for last year's crop. It is 2 cent a bushel higher than the minimum average of $1.58 a bushel announced last February before planting time. The increase is due to a rise in the parity price from $1.75 to $1.78 a bushel between February and October.

Purchase agreements also are available.

Application for loan is to be made at the County PMA office.

Sam Hudgins

Sam Hudgins

made on his time by his work on congressional committees. He has been working with Congressman Harold Velde of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Mr. Hudgins was formerly with the retail branch of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company and is well known here in Murray. He was born in West Helena, Arkansas and was raised in Jackson, Tennessee where he graduated from Lambuth College in 1950. He is married to the former Miss Ethelene Mathis of Jackson and they have two children, Sylvia, age four, and Carol Ann, age one month.

Hudgins is a member of the American Legion, a former Marine, and a member of the Memorial Baptist Church.

He and his family live at 1023 Sharpe Street.

George Hart Named To Head Drive

W. F. "Willie" Foster, President of the Merit Clothing Company of Mayfield, along with fifty Scouts and Scout Leaders from the 10 counties comprising the Four Rivers Council attended a "kick-off" breakfast at the Hall Hotel in Mayfield recently preparatory to a finance campaign to raise $34,000 for Scouting next year.

October 20 has been set as the date for the Kentucky Coordinated Boy Scout Finance Campaign. On that date all Boy Scout Councils over the State will stage their finance drives.

W. F. Foster, of Mayfield, will serve as general chairman of the Four Rivers Boy Scout Council campaign. Mr. Foster presided at the breakfast.

Robert Billington, Cincinnati, Ohio, Region Four (Kentucky, Ohio, W. Va.) Regional Scout Executive, brought the group an inspiring message on the need for Scouting and the many, many benefits derived from this outstanding youth program.

The meeting was similar to a luncheon given at the Executive mansion in Frankfort by Gov. Lawrence Wetherby, which was attended by the Chairman of the various Boy Scout Councils in the State.

Pheasant Shoot Planned Saturday And Sunday

The Calloway County Conservation Club is sponsoring a large scale two-day pheasant shoot Saturday and Sunday, October 17 and 18. The shooting contests will be held at the Irvin Cobb Resort.

Shooting will begin each day at 9:00 a. m. and continue all day. Both still targets and clay pigeons will be used. Shooters may shoot at the one they choose. Twelve men will compete in each contest using still targets. The price on still targets will be 50¢ per shooter. All types of shotgun ammunition will be available on the grounds. The clay pigeon shooters will be charged $1.00 to compete and the club does not charge for the targets used. Five persons will compete in each heat of the pigeon shoot.

Winners will receive either live or dressed pheasants as their prize. The Club has purchased 120 pheasants to be given away in the two days of shooting. All persons winning pheasants may take either the live or dressed birds. Many shooters prefer live birds that can be released.

All profit from the two-day affair will be used to restock game in this county. The club now is holding a large number of quail that will be released next spring. To raise money to feed them through the winter is a primary reason for the shoot.

Eight North American animals hibernate during the cold winter months. These are the jumping mouse, badger, bat, gopher, woodchuck, chipmunk, raccoon and bear.

Election Requested By CIO At Calloway Manufacturing

An attempt is being made to organize the employees of the Calloway Manufacturing Company according to information received today.

It is understood that the CIO has petitioned for an election to the National Labor Relations Board and that a hearing was held Wednesday.

Mr. Finley, attorney for the CIO from Detroit, Nick Marcella of New Albany, Indiana and a Mr. Haley from Mayfield represented the CIO at the NLRB hearing Wednesday. Company representatives and two National Labor Relations Board were also present.

A board reporter from Cincinnati attended the meeting Wednesday.

The petition for an election was made to the board following the meeting Wednesday here in Murray.

If the election is granted, as it will under standard procedure the employees of the company will cast their vote on whether to allow the CIO to represent them in negotiations with the company or whether to have union affiliation at all.

The company has been in operation since late Spring and at the present time still has about forty percent of its employees in the training phase.

A spokesman for the company said today that it would be some time before all employees would be out of this stage of the operation.

The company hires about 250 persons at the present time and has an expectation of hiring about two times that number when all sports clothing.

The industry marked the third major industry that has moved to Murray recently. The other two being the Murray Manufacturing Company and the Winslow Engineering Corporation.

It was brought to Murray through the efforts of many people in order that the city and county might benefit from the payroll that would be made available, and from other materials and services which the plant would use.

The people of Murray raised approximately $60,000 to bring the plant to Murray. This money is being used to pay for the rent on the building for five years, to install a sprinkler system in the plant and to pay the interest on the financing of the system.

In turn the company has spent over $150,000 in remodeling, rewiring, painting, and in the installation of machinery in the building. Employees at the plant have been on the payroll since late Spring.

Local Lady Observes 94th Birthday

Four score and fourteen years have passed in the life of Mrs. Kate Rose who celebrated her ninety-fourth birthday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cyrus Linn, on the Olive Boulevard Thursday.

Only the immediate members of the family and a few close friends were present for the special occasion of Mrs. Rose.

Mrs. Rose has been known by her friendliness and the goodwill she has shown in her life as a homemaker and a mother. She always enjoyed working in her yard and her garden and always tried to give some small item to almost every person that came to visit her at her home.

Another hobby of Mrs. Rose is that of piecing quilts and doing the regular chore of mending and patching.

The elderly lady was born in Calloway County near the Almo Heights crossing in the Flint community. She has lived in this community until recent years.

Her first marriage to Andy Belcher ended after ten years at the time of his death. She later married Joe Rose who passed away in 1910. Since that time she has been living with her children, Mrs. Cyrus Linn and Cary Rose.

One child, Miss Lettie Rose, passed away in 1913. Mrs. Rose has one brother living, J. R. Trevathan of Pleasant Ridge, Mich., near Detroit, Mich. She has four grandchildren—Mrs. Ed Scully of Nashville, Tenn., Mrs. Holmes Dunn, Misses Katie Rose and Martha Linn of Murray and one great grandson, Ed Scully, Jr.

Mrs. Rose is very active and waits on herself all the time. She can recall many interesting events in her life including some during the Civil War. May the remaining years of her life be as happy as the ones have been in the past.

There is a noticeable effort on the part of patrons to be polite. But there is also a noticeable shift by dancers to the side of the room where Rita sits.

It has not been disclosed where Rita's two children are.

Miss Hayworth told newsmen on her arrival at Houston that "Contrary to popular belief that I'm a wealthy woman, I don't have any money at all. Dick's got to support me and my family and household out of his earnings as a singer."

Weather
Kentucky: Sunny with high-est 60 to 64 this afternoon. Clear tonight, lowest 40 to 46 east and upper 40's west portion. Saturday sunny and continued warm.

THE LEDGER & TIMES

PUBLISHED BY LEDGER & TIMES PUBLISHING COMPANY, Inc.
Consolidation of the Murray Ledger, The Calloway Times, and The Herald-Examiner, October 30, 1928, and the West Kentuckian, January
1, 1953.

JAMES C. WILLIAMS, PUBLISHER

THE KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION
NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVES: WALLACE WITMER CO., 1308
Madison, Memphis, Tenn.; 250 Park Ave., New York; 307 N. Michigan ave., Chicago; 80 Bolyton St., Boston.

We reserve the right to reject any advertising. Letters to the Editor, or Public Voice items which in our opinion are not for the best interest of our readers.

Entered at the Post Office, Murray, Kentucky, for transmission as Second Class Matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Carrier in Murray, per week 15c, per month 55c. In Calloway and adjoining counties, per year, $6.50; elsewhere, $8.00.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1953

America Strong Overseas

Senator John C. Stennis, Democrat of Mississippi, has just returned from an inspection of American defenses overseas and he has reported to President Eisenhower that any power that attacks the United States anywhere on earth will commit an act of suicide.

He said this country has three defense circles around the Soviet Union, each of them more impregnable than any other defense line ever established, and that our striking force is actual and not on paper. He believes we should say a great deal more about our striking power, and less about Russia's.

He says there is no way on earth for Russia to win a war against the United States unless she is prepared to wipe us out completely with an initial blow such as Pearl Harbor, and he doesn't believe there is sufficient enemy striking force in all the world combined to deliver such a blow.

He doesn't think we should go severely on our way and ignore the possibility of attack by Russia because he thinks internal affairs may cause her to provoke a war against us or Western Europe which we are pledged to defend. He does believe, however, that we can relieve our minds of morbid fear and too much worry over a Third World War.

Coming from one of the outstanding Democratic Senators we believe this statement by Stennis will have a great deal of weight. Every word he says about our overseas defenses, especially in Europe where they are the strongest, is a direct tribute to the ability of our great president who served as head of NATO while they were being built.

TVA Challenged By Co-Op

Customers of the Tennessee Valley Authority throughout the territory it serves will follow with interest litigation that has been instituted against it by Volunteer Electric Co-Operative of McMinn County to restrain the authority from selling power direct to a customer located in the territory served by the Co-Op.

It will be interesting because TVA has made contracts with quite a number of large concerns, including the Atomic Energy Commission, in territory served by locally owned utilities and it will be well to have a court ruling on a practice that may develop faster in the future as demand for electricity increases.

The new customer signed up by TVA is the Bowater Southern Paper Corporation which is building a fifty-one million dollar newsprint mill at Charleston, Tennessee.

It seems the paper corporation is building its own steam electric plant to furnish power for its newsprint manufacturing business and that TVA will buy power from Bowater for at least a part of the year after the plant gets in full operation.

Attorneys for the Co-Op claim more than a half million dollars a year revenue from the sale of power is involved in the transaction and that this revenue should come to the Co-Op under terms of the contract it has with TVA.

It will require hearing of all the evidence to determine who is right, but the Co-Op will have the sympathy of many people throughout the TVA territory who favor home rule.

FOUR MEN are in custody in New York following seizure of 11 pounds of pure heroin found in two fire extinguishers aboard the French liner Flamare. Under arrest are Frenchmen Serge Sebille, 25, and Andre George Chese, 39, and New Yorkers M. Harry Migliore, 45, and Joseph Morley, 35. Two other persons in the dope seizure ring are under arrest in Massachusetts. The $600,000 seizure was the cost in the New York area in 10 years. (International Soundphoto)

CALL ON DULLES ABOUT TRIESTE

YUGOSLAV DEPUTY FOREIGN MINISTER Koca Popovic (left) and Yugoslav Ambassador to the U. S. Vladimir Popovic are shown on arrival at the State department, Washington, to confer with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on Trieste. (International Soundphoto)

SPORTS

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By JACK CUDDY

United Press Sports Writer

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—If the Cleveland Browns are "over the hill," several other clubs in the National Football League would like to find that hill and go over it too.

Before the current season started, there was much smacking of lips around the circuit and hearty declarations that Coach Paul Brown and his grizzled gradates were definitely washed up.

Since they were organized in 1946, the Browns won seven consecutive division crowns, including four in the old All-America conference. That was an unprecedented feat in the "porky" big-profit field.

During those seven seasons, the Browns also won five straight league championships, the last of which was in 1951.

As early as 1950 there had been suspicions that the Browns were cracking up. Coach Brown did nothing to dispel those suspicions in that 30 season when he stood in a steamy Polo Grounds dressing room and said his stars were "over the hill." He referred to players like Otto Graham and Danie Lavelli. The Browns had just lost to the Giants for the second time in that campaign.

And at the close of last season, the enigma was continued. Although Cleveland won the Eastern title again, victory was achieved with an 8-4 record—the worst the Browns had ever compiled.

Coach Brown shook his head sadly then and said he would have to release some of his "fine old men" and begin a rebuilding job with rookies. But when he started the 1953 campaign, he still had eight years' service as a pro.

And, right now, the bearded Browns appear headed for their eighth straight division duum. Instead of folding, they clicked off three victories: 27-0 over Green Bay, 27-13 over Philadelphia, and 27-7 over the Chicago Cardinals.

They not only lead the circuit in points scored, with 91, but also are tops defensively in points allowed, 20. And they permitted three opponents to complete but 38.8 per cent of passes attempted, for the tightest figure in the league.

Genial Jack Lavelli, who scouts Cleveland for the New York Giants believes the still brilliant play of quarterback Otto Graham is a major reason for the Browns' last start this year. He said, "I've never seen Otto pass as well as he's doing now."

Graham has completed 53 of 76 passes for 830 yards and four touchdowns—and an amazing average gain of 12.24 yards per attempt.

Graham, 31, is the father of three children, and if he'll tell other players what hill he's over—watch out for the stampede.

Nobody's safe from those Omaha police.

Omaha, Neb. (AP)—Police showed real enthusiasm during a recent drive on traffic and parking violators.

They put overtime parking tickets on autos belonging to Municipal Judge Frank Nitz, the assistant city prosecutor, Herbert S. Thoms and several police cruisers.

'I'M NOT GUILTY,' WABLE INSISTS

HEAD IN HANDS, John Wesley Wable (above shown in inset) is questioned in Albuquerque, N. M., jail by Undersheriff Walter Gies in the phantom killing of two sleeping truck drivers on the Pennsylvania turnpike. "I'm not guilty," insisted Wable. The gun with which the truck drivers are believed to have been killed has been traced to him in Cleveland. (International Soundphoto)

Business For Sale

Excellent grocery store for sale. Wonderful location near the square, modern throughout, new cooling units and frozen foods display cases. Air conditioned. Electrically heated.

Recently remodeled and redecorated, good floor

This grocery store is well equipped and has one of the most outstanding group of patrons in the city of Murray.

If you want a good business that is doing well now, now is your opportunity to purchase one.

Reason for Selling, Retiring

Write P. O. Box 32-T
Murray, Kentucky

Purple Aces To Tangle With MSC

Evansville College's Purple Aces will tangle with the Murray State Thoroughbreds at Reitz Bowl Saturday night in their second home game of the season after playing away for three consecutive weekends.

Coach Ping's charges, currently a 5-0 team with a 2-2 record, lost to Butler and Indiana State and upset highly favored Valpo U. in their three road games. The Aces were victorious in their first home game, whipping DePauw U. 7-0.

Murray, still looking for their first win after four games, lost to Memphis 23-0 last weekend in their homecoming game. They have also lost to Tennessee Tech, Eastern Ky., and Louisville U. However, the boys from Calloway County aren't expected to lose.

Strong rivalry since their tawling encounter in 1949, Murray's record doesn't mean much when the two teams meet. Last year the Racers bested Evansville 14-0 in a hard knocking contest.

The Racers, like the Aces, fashioned their offensive attack from the Split-T. They have been plagued by excessive injuries this season and are also somewhat short on experience in the starting lineup, having lost eight of last year's starters by graduation.

With the exception of Captain Charlie Shelton and halfback Don Buchenberger, the Aces will be at full playing strength, barring practice injuries. Shelton is out for the season with an arm injury received in the Valparaiso game.

Starting time for the non-conference game has been changed from 8:00 to 8:30 p.m. It has been announced by Gene Robinson, athletic business manager for the college. The later starting time was set to relieve anticipated heavy traffic in the West Side area because of the Fall Festival.

BLAST FURNACE IS SAFER THAN HOME

New York (AP)—Employees of the United States Steel Corp. are three times safer around a blast furnace than near the kitchen stove, according to the company's safety department.

A survey showed that last-time accidents during leisure hours outnumbered those on the job by a three-to-one ratio.

U. S. Steel, the nation's number one producer, this year received the honor award from the National Safety Council for its record of only 2.17 accidents per million man-hours worked in all steel-producing divisions.

REGISTER NOW! for $1500.00 in Prizes to be given away by Murray Merchants NO OBLIGATION

Have you read the Classified Ads today?

NOTICE

Ashland Super Service IS NOW OPEN 24 HOURS For Your Convenience

We are the only station in town open 24 hours

THANK YOU

James E. Hughes
Leo Carraway
Otha Winchester

Murray Radiator Shop

Radiators

Cleaned & Repaired - Recored

NEW AND USED RADIATORS

Fourth and Chestnut

DAY PHONE 9118

NIGHT PHONE 865-W

IT'S BEAUTIFUL

IT'S LUXURIOUS

IT'S PLYMOUTH for '54

Big, bright and beautiful!

With the fresh new beauty of "Color-Tuned" Styling, the elegance of all-new Hy-Drive interiors, the new 1954 Plymouth brings you luxury new to low-price cars! Three sparkling new lines: the Belvedere, the Savoy, the Plaza. You are cordially invited to see and drive the new 1954 Plymouth at your Plymouth dealer's soon!

No-shift driving with Hy-Drive!

Newest, smoothest, least expensive no-shift driving in the low-price field—available only on Plymouth! Hy-Drive gives you quick, quiet, smooth acceleration, complete control at all times.

Power Steering and Hy-Drive each available at low extra cost on 1954 Plymouth model. Your dealer will gladly arrange your demonstration.

You can win one FREE!

The exciting $25,000 "Win a New Plymouth" Contest is on at your Plymouth dealer's! You can win a sparkling new 1954 Plymouth free, or one of hundreds of cash prizes, if you enter now! It's easy! Fun! Your Plymouth dealer has full details and entry blanks, but hurry! Contest closes midnight, Monday, October 19th.

New Power Steering!

Steering, turning, parking—Plymouth's new full-time Power Steering does the work—lets you enjoy the ride! Smooth, silent hydraulic power is "on duty" every minute to give you effortless steering every mile you drive!

IT'S ON DISPLAY NOW

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Dr. H. C. Chiles

NEW MEN FOR A BETTER WORLD

Before there can be a new world such as is needed so much, there must be more made-over men, who are subject to the will of Christ. This lesson has to do with the life and service of such new men in this present world. MATTHEW 5:13-16.

Christ used two very familiar things to set forth the real nature of Christian living: salt and light. He likened Christians to salt. Salt serves a number of purposes: it keeps things sweet and fresh, it imparts a portion of its taste to the food with which it is mixed thus making it palatable, it whets the appetite, it creates a thirst, it serves as an antiseptic, and it preserves from corruption and decay that with which it is mingled. Salt has three outstanding properties—penetration, purification and preservation. It exists for others and it does its work gradually, silently and inconspicuously.

Christians are the only ones who can add real savor to life. The preservation of the world depends upon the presence of the Lord's people. Whether man realizes it or not, it is the presence of believers in Christ that saves the world from destruction.

Peace and happiness in the lives of Christians can create a real thirst for the same in the lives of the ungodly. Many have testified that the godly life of some Christian had more to do with bringing them to a saving knowledge of Christ than anything else. On the other hand, many have been turned away from Christ by the inconsistent lives of professing Christians.

Christ referred to His followers as "the light of the world."

Now that His bodily presence is no longer manifested, His followers furnish the only light this world has. Without them the world would be in utter spiritual darkness. What a glorious privilege is the believer's giving forth the light to the world by reflecting the true light! Jesus Christ is the only true light, but He shines through the lives of those who know Him and walk in His footsteps. He will shine through the lives of all Christians if they will let Him. Each Christian is responsible for keeping the reflector of his soul clean so that Christ may shine forth unflin-changed. Former thoughts, principles and practices have passed away, and these new creatures in Christ Jesus set from new principles and new purposes. They have new attitudes, new desires, new ideals and new hopes. They have a new song in their hearts and a new testimony on their lips.

Inasmuch as God is reconciling men unto Himself through the gospel of Christ, every believer is commissioned to bear the word of reconciliation to lost men everywhere, and to beseech them to be reconciled to God and to assume the right attitude toward Him in all things. We are to urge men to accept Christ personally, to confess Him publicly and to serve Him openly. As God's spokesmen to others, we are to treat them to accept the friendship and love which God offers and to enter into the peace which He provides. JAMES 2:14-18

It is very important to know God's will, but such knowledge to little except to earn God's disapproval unless we do His will. It is well to hear with swift apprehension, but there is no point in practicing it unless we practice it. James did not contradict Paul's doctrine of justification by faith, but he did combat the perverters of Paul's teaching. Some have imagined contradiction between Paul and James on this important subject, but such is not the case. Paul wrote about justification before God on the ground of faith, while James referred to justification before men on the basis that works are an evidence of saving faith. James contended that real faith would result in good works. Anything which is called faith that does not result in works is very definitely not the kind of faith commanded by God and revealed in His faithful and obedient servants.

Faith and works are united inseparably. If a man has saving faith, it is certain to manifest itself in good works. It is useless for one to say that he has faith if he does not produce good works. Faith which consists of a mere profession is never acceptable to God. To profess to have faith, and at the same time, to be destitute of practical living and charitable giving is to prove that the profession is false and worthless. One may say that he has faith, but unless his declaration is substantiated by appropriate works, it is no better than to say to the naked and the hungry, "Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled," without any effort whatever to supply the clothing and food which was needed. If we claim to have faith, we are under obligation to prove that we do. Jesus is simply challenging us to produce works as the evidence of the genuineness of the faith which we profess.

WSM-TV Program Schedule

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE CHANNEL 4 (Subject change)

PROGRAM

TIME

Saturday, October 17, 1953

9:30 Smilin' Ed McConnell

10:00 Johnny Jupiter

10:30 Captain Video

10:50 Space Cadet

11:00 Flash Gordon

11:30 Captain Midnight

12:00 Cowboy G-Men

12:30 Life Begins At 80

1:00 Roy Rogers

1:45 NCAA Football Game

3:30 Pre-Game Program

12:30 To Be Announced

3:45 NCAA Football Game

4: California vs. Ohio State

5:45 Scoreboard

6:00 Ozzie and Harriet

6:30 Ramar of the Jungle

7:00 I Bonino

7:30 Amateur Hour

8:00 Show of Shows

9:30 Death Valley Days

10:00 Wrestling From Hollywood

Sunday, October 18, 1953

12:30 Frontiers of Faith

1:00 Pro Football

Cleveland Browns at Chicago Cardinals

3:45 Yesterday's Newsreels

4:00 This Week in The News

4:00 Superman

5:00 Vandy Football

6:00 Winchell-Mahoney

6:30 Mr. Peepers

7:00 Comedy Hour

8:00 TV Playhouse

9:00 Music City, U. S. A.

9:30 Movie Time

11:00 To Be Announced

Monday, October 19, 1953

9:00 Ding Dong School

9:30 Glamour Girl

10:00 Hawkins Falls

10:15 Bennett Story

10:30 Three Steps To Heaven

10:45 Devotional Moments

11:00 Morning Matinee

12:00 Morning Matinee

12:15 News

12:30 Luncheon At The Noel

1:30 Kitchen Kollege

2:00 Kate Smith

2:30 Kate Smith

3:00 Welcome Travelers

Model 757

17-inch Screen

$169.95

21 inch Table Model $219.95

21 inch Console Model $269.95

For A-1 repairs on Radio & TV, or Antenna installation

SEE MURRAY HOME & AUTO STORE

305 Main Phone 1300

The Big Stamp Mystery

No one seems to know just how the truck in the officially-approved design of a new three-cent postage stamp, above, commemorating the 50th anniversary of the trucking industry, should manage to look so much like the vehicle in the photo below. Postal authorities said it was just a coincidence. Whatever it is, the design has caused a furor among truck manufacturers, with the result that Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, a truck dealer himself, has ordered a last-minute change in the sketch. More than 100,000,000 copies of the stamp will be issued. In the photo, Ben Winterberger of St. Louis is shown at the wheel of a Reo truck he steered to a national truck-driving championship. Said Reo: "The Post Office Department might consider using a sketch of a covered wagon instead. That should make everyone happy."

PROBE FILCHED RADAR SECRETS

U. S. ARMY Secretary Robert T. Stevens (left) and Senator Joseph McCarthy (R, Wisconsin), leave Federal building in New York following a session of the Senate subcommittee investigating filched secret radar documents from Fort Monmouth, N. J. Said McCarthy, "If they got into the hands of the enemy, they could be extremely dangerous to this country." Said Stevens, "The Army is investigating all installations and has been aware of the situation for a considerable period of time." (International Soundphoto)

AFL DOCKERS WIN PITCHED BATTLE

Man injured in melee shouts from ground, friends around him.

A rioting dock worker is hauled in by police as crowd watches.

THESE ARE SCENES of the pitched battle between New York police escorting AFL toughmen to work on docks, and rival International Longshoremen's union members, ousted from AFL membership. Night sticks were swung and rocks thrown, but the new AFL union wrestled at least temporary control of a key breakwater pier, with the losers promising more fight. (International Soundphoto)

NO TO DEWEY'S DEMAND HE QUIT

ACTING NEW YORK Lt. Gov. Arthur H. Wicks points to sign on his office door in Albany to indicate he is standing on his refusal to resign as Gov. Thomas E. Dewey demands. Dewey asked for the resignation because of Wicks' visits to building trades labor chieftain Joey Fay in Sing Sing prison. Wicks said the state senate elected him majority leader, and he would offer his resignation only to the senate. Wicks is acting lieutenant governor as result of resignation of the elected official. (International Soundphoto)

SEIZE 4 WITH $600,000 HEROIN

James C. Ryan (left), Federal Narcotics bureau district supervisor, and James H. Page, customs official, display seized sacks of heroin and the two fire extinguishers in which the dope was found.

SHOOTING IS FUN CAREFUL PREVENT FOREST & GRASS FIRES

LOANS

Friendly Finance

506 West Main

Phone 1180

MURRAY, KY.

USED CAR LOANS

By Lawrence & Rickman

1949 Ford Club Coupe

Nice Green Finish

Radio, Heater

White Wall Tires

L&R Motors

PHONE 485

DeSoto-Plymouth

1413 West Main

800-Year Dispute

AFTER an 800-year-old sovereignty dispute between England and France, question of ownership of two island groups in the English channel has gone to the International Court of Justice at The Hague. The groups are Les Ecrehoux and Plateau des Minquiers (large type), whose sovereignty question goes back to William the Conqueror, when England also had territory in France proper.

GREG'S

511 South 12th

Phone 1234

"Sweet dreams, we're having rolls from Greg's Bake Shop for Breakfast"

NOTICE

By filling out the coupon attached you will have an opportunity to be one of three ladies selected for a program of $30 to $35 per week earnings.

To be considered you must have a car available and character references.

I would like to be considered for your high part time earning program.

Name _____

Address _____

Phone (if any) _____

AY, OCTOBER 16, 1953

ve you read the Classified Ads today?

NOTICE

Ashland Super Service

IS NOW OPEN 24 HOURS

For Your Convenience

are the only station in town open 24 hours

THANK YOU

James E. Hughes

Leo Carraway

Otho Winchester

NIGHT PHONE 865-W

LOOK BEFORE YOU SHOOT!

SHOOTING IS FUN CAREFUL PREVENT FOREST & GRASS FIRES

LOANS

Friendly Finance

506 West Main

Phone 1180

MURRAY, KY.

USED CAR LOANS

By Lawrence & Rickman

OLD FASHIONED WICKIES RIPE BROOMS ON HALLOWEEN

1949 Ford Club Coupe

Nice Green Finish

Radio, Heater

White Wall Tires

L&R Motors

PHONE 485

DeSoto-Plymouth

1413 West Main

NOTICE

By filling out the coupon attached you will have an opportunity to be one of three ladies selected for a program of $30 to $35 per week earnings.

To be considered you must have a car available and character references.

I would like to be considered for your high part time earning program.

Name _____

Address _____

Phone (if any) _____

NOW

WOMEN'S PAGE

Jo Burkeen, Editor . . . Phone 55 or 1150-M

Club News Activities
Weddings Locals

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Mrs. Ber
Hostess
Of Circle

Mrs. Ber
home on Se
the meeting
Woman's
the First Tuesday aft o'clock.

The devo
Hugh Wilk
ture readi
emphasized
word for th
Psalms 96,
year 1953.

Mrs. Mav
teresting
"WML" Ore
Rev. and which they
with the It
The mes
Staves from given by N
B. H. Cor
ticle. "I S
programs w
by Mrs. Pa

Following
sion the h
ments to th

Friday, October 16
The New Concord Homemakers Club will meet with Mrs. Kerby Jennings at one-thirty o'clock.

Saturday, October 17
The Woodmen Circle Juniors will meet at one o'clock at the Woodmen Hall for a practice session. All members who wish to participate in the program at New Lake Hotel October 22 should be present.

The Woman's Society of Christ-ian Service of the First Methodist Church is sponsoring a rummage sale at nine o'clock in the O. B. Boone building next to the Fire Station.

Monday, October 19
The Young Women's Class of the First Baptist Church will have a halloween party at the home of Mrs. H. W. "Stub" Wilson, 1496 Poplar, at six-thirty o'clock.

The Penny Homemakers Club will meet with Mrs. Everett Brown at one-thirty o'clock.

95 Drive In

Friday and Saturday
"Indian Uprising"
in super cinetone
starring
George Montgomery

Sunday and Monday
"The Mississippi Gambler"
in technicolor
starring Tyronne Power
with Piper Laurie
Julia Adams

Tuesday, October 20
The Dorcas Class of the First Baptist Church will meet with Mrs. Jimmy Bury at seven-thirty o'clock. Group I, Mrs. Fannie Lou Adams, captain, will be in charge of the arrangements.

Wednesday, October 21
The Woman's Society of Christ-ian Service of the First Methodist Church will meet with Mrs. Hubert Jackson and Mrs. Billy Fair as cohostesses at two-thirty o'clock. Mrs. H. T. Wal-drop will be program leader.

The Kirksey Homemakers Club will meet with Mrs. Paul Peachall at one-thirty o'clock.

Wednesday, October 21
The J. N. Williams chapter of the UDC will meet with Mrs. Tom Banks with Mrs. E. J. Seale as cohostesses at two-thirty o'clock.

Wednesday, October 21
The East Hazel Homemakers Club will meet with Mrs. Robert Craig at one o'clock.

Thursday, October 15
The Girl Scout Board and Lead-ers will meet at the Scout Cabin at nine o'clock.

Thursday, October 22
The Zeta Department of the Murray Woman's Club will have an open meeting at the club house at eight o'clock. Mrs. Harlan Hodges will give a book re-view.

Lakeview Drive-In

Thursday and Friday
"Wac From Walla Walla"
with Judy Canova
Steven Dunne
June Vincent

CAPITOL
Today and Saturday
JIMMY WAKELY
BRAND OF FEAR

VARSAITY TODAY and SAT.
LAST OF THE GREAT SHOOTING MARSHALS!
RONALD REAGAN
LAW and ORDER
COLOR BY Technicolor
CO-STARRING DOROTHY MALONE
PRESTON FOSTER-ALEX NICOL and introducing BETTE HARTMAN

SAVINGS
With Safety Plus Profit!
2% INTEREST RATE
PEOPLES BANK
OF MURRAY MEMBER F.D.I.C.

Lynn Grove WSCS Has Meeting Wednesday Evening At Church

The Woman's Society of Christ-ian Service of the Lynn Grove Methodist Church met Wednesday evening at the church with Mrs. Layne Shanklin in charge of the business session.

Mrs. Leon Chambers was the leader of the program on the theme, "Scatter Good Seed," with Mrs. Jennie Rogers as the worship service leader.

Others participating in the program were Mrs. Eron Story, Mrs. Lottie Crawford, Mrs. Bun Crawford, Mrs. Beulah Hughes and Mrs. Willie Mae Morton.

A special number was sung by Miss Shirley Morton and Mrs. Bobbie Eaker. The program was closed with prayer by Mrs. Leon Chambers.

During the business session Mrs. Mae Clark reported a nice box was sent to Wesley House. A report on the "God's Acre Plan" was given by Mrs. Sanders Miller. Plans were made for the week of prayer.

Mrs. Nolan Lee, formerly Miss Ruth Sims, was honored with a shower by the WSCS.

Present for the meeting were twenty-three members, five visitors and one new member, Mrs. Bobbie Eaker.

Mrs. Noel Meugin Opens Home For Ann Hasseltine Meeting

The Ann Hasseltine Class of the Memorial Baptist Church held its October meeting in the home of Mrs. Noel Meugin on Olive Street Monday evening at seven-thirty o'clock.

Mrs. John Waters gave the devotion using Mrs. Hyatt Stokely of Camden, Tenn., as the reader.

The tenth chapter of Romans was read with a prayer. The teacher, Mrs. Cate Wilkerson, conducted a Bible Quiz.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Edgar Wilkerson, and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Jeddie Cathey.

Delicious refreshments were served to the twelve members and one guest, Mrs. Hugh McElrath, by the hostesses, Mrs. Meugin and Mrs. V. N. Albritten.

Mrs. Julius Cooper Program Leader For Woman's Society

The monthly meeting of the Woman's Society of Christ-ian Service of the South Pleasant Grove Methodist Church was held at the church on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Curtis Treas. opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. H. P. Blankenship gave the devotion. Mrs. Julius Cooper was leader of the program on the theme, "Scatter the Good Seed." Those taking part on the program were Mrs. Curtis Treas, Mrs. Eldridge Brandon, Mrs. Warren Erwin, Mrs. Ouis Treas, Mrs. Hester Brown and Mrs. Leon Cooper.

An article from the Methodist Woman was given by Mrs. Bee Morton.

Mrs. Make Erwin became a new member. Mrs. Ellis Rose Peachall was presented a life time membership certificate and pin. She has been president of the WSCS for the past two years.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Toy Brandon, Mrs. Warren Erwin and Mrs. Roy Brandon.

Mrs. E. C. Jones Is Hostess For Meeting

The home of Mrs. E. C. Jones on South Tenth Street was the scene of the meeting of Circle III of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church held Tuesday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock.

Mrs. Pearl Jones, chairman, was in charge of the meeting which was opened with prayer by Mrs. George Upchurch.

The scripture reading from Psalms 96:18 was by Mrs. Pearl Jones. The main program was presented by Mrs. George Upchurch.

Attending the meeting were eight members, two new members—Mrs. Ruth Johnston and Mrs. Eggle Blacklock—and one visitor, Mrs. Jewel White.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. James Norvick Cathey and son of Rock Island, Ill., are the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cathey and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Morton.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cathey accompanied their son, James Norvick Cathey and family, to Murray after spending three weeks in Rock Island, Ill., with their son and family, and their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Harrell and son, David. The Herman Catheys made the trip to Rock Island with their other daughter, Mrs. Haley Stokes and Mr. Stokes and daughter, Ann, of Camden, Tenn.

Miss Ann Stokes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt Stokely of Camden, Tenn., is now teaching school in Carmi, Ill. She recently visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cathey in Murray.

Mrs. Richard Scarborough and Mrs. Florence Kennerly have returned from Chicago, Ill., where they were called to be at the bedside of their sister and daughter, Mrs. Louise Lowry, who underwent major surgery. She is reported now to be in fair condition.

Mamie Taylor Circle Meets Tuesday With Mrs. Albritten

Mrs. V. N. Albritten was hostess for the meeting of the Mamie Taylor Circle of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Memorial Baptist Church held Tuesday evening at seven-thirty o'clock at her home on Main Street.

"Christian Education" was the subject of the program presented with Mrs. Claude Miller in charge. Others taking part were Mrs. Veris Sanderson, Mrs. H. T. Dunner and Mrs. S. E. Byler.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Hugh McElrath after which Mrs. Pearl Phillips gave the devotion.

Mrs. J. O. Reeves, chairman, presided at the meeting.

Refreshments were served to the fourteen members, two new members and three visitors present.

Got Gas Chamber

BARBARA GRAHAM, shown weeping in jail in Los Angeles, has something to cry about. Just before the photo was made she was sentenced to die in the state gas chamber in San Quentin prison for the murder of Mrs. Mabel Monahan. Also doomed in the case are Jack Santo and Emmett Fickins.

Murray Training FHA Plans Activities Of Year For Chapter

The Murray Training School chapter of the Future Homemakers of America, under the leadership of Miss Jean Ann Moubrey met Wednesday to complete its program of activities for the year. All members volunteered to work on activities pertaining to at least one goal.

Goal number one is the developing of greater understanding of the people and homes of other nationalities within and without the country. The members working on this goal are Miss Patsy Moody, chairman, Miss Judy Waldrop, co-chairman, Misses Beverly Stout, Edna Thurman, Sandra Livingston, Sue Hale and Patsy Burroughs.

Learning to be more democratic at home, at school, in chapters and in the community and nation is goal number two with Miss Janice Richardson, chairman, Miss Judy Barker, co-chairman, Misses Lane Miller, Carole Kelly, Hilda Trevathan, Janice Perkins and Louella Parker working toward this aim.

Miss Barbara Hale is chairman, Miss Joyce Michel, co-chairman, and Misses Paula Blacklock, Prudence McKinney, Georgia Speight, Patsy Hatcher and Patricia Burgess are working on goal number three which is realizing and accepting the home responsibilities.

Goal number four is understanding and helping others to understand what homemaking training can contribute to the present and future use. The members on this goal are Miss Dortha Ferguson, chairman, Misses Patricia Wilson, Catherine Irvin, Norma Lassiter, Jean Good, Wilma Boyd, Ann Falwell and Frances Perry.

The 1953-54 officers of the Murray Training FHA are Miss Jean Moubrey, president; Miss Ann Overby, vice-president; Miss Barbara Hale, second vice-president; Miss Joyce Michel, secretary; Miss Dortha Ferguson, treasurer; Miss Janice Richardson, parliamentarian; Miss Judy Barker, historian; Miss Patsy Moody, reporter.

Activities Reported By Various Troops Of The Girl Scouts

The following reports have been made by various troops of the Girl Scouts:

TROOP 18

By Shirley Andrus, Scribe
Leaders, Mrs. Alton Rogers and Mrs. H. B. Bailey, Jr.
Troop 18 met at the Scout cabin Tuesday with the leaders, Mr. W. B. Moser, principal of Murray High School, came over. We went on a hike to identify fifteen trees. We came back and discussed our sleep-out and halloween party. Apples were served by our leaders.

TROOP 18
By Julie Dean Kearney, Scribe
Leaders, Mrs. J. M. Kearney and Mrs. W. H. Brooks.
Brownie Scout Troop 18 met October 13. Officers for the troop were elected. We played outside and closed our meeting with singing.

TROOP 20
Leader, Mrs. Verne Kyle and Mrs. J. D. Murphy.
On Wednesday, October 14, our meeting was opened with a prayer by Carolyn Medearis. Then we sang "My Country 'Tis of Thee" after which we gave the pledge of allegiance.

Beverly Lassiter and Linda Sue Levin entertained us by singing "Five Feet Two."

The rest of the meeting was spent in hiking, playing games and folk dancing. We had a good time.

The members who attended were Carolyn Medearis, Donna Murphy, Kathryn Kyle, Patricia Pasco, Nannie Herndon, Linda Sue Levin, Stella Hicks, Beverly Lassiter, Beverly Rodgers, Jane Orr, Sharry Pagne and Chyrle Nannay.

REGISTER NOW!
for $1500.00 in Prizes to be given away by Murray Merchants
NO OBLIGATION

Zeta Department To Hold Open Meeting

Mrs. Harlan Hodges will be the guest speaker at the open meeting of the Zeta Department of the Murray Woman's Club to be held Thursday evening, October 22, at eight o'clock at the club house.

All members of the department planning to bring guests are requested to call the hostesses by Tuesday.

Mrs. John Pasco, chairman of the department, invites the public to attend the meeting to hear the very talented speaker.

8 MILLION HOUSES WERE BUILT SINCE WORLD WAR II
Washington 10—The National Association of Home Builders said the 8,000,000th house constructed since the end of World War II was built just after the Census Bureau reported the arrival of the 160,000,000th American.

The Home Builders concluded, statistically and figuratively, that the stork is busier than the saw and hammer.

MAX H. CHURCHILL FUNERAL HOME
Superior Ambulance Service
Equipped With Oxygens
"THE FRIENDLY FUNERAL HOME"
311 N. 4th St. Murray, Ky. Phone 98

SMART NEW BULOVAS
Just Arrived
Trade in your old watch during our Great October Trade-In Watch Sale.
Lindsey's JEWELERS

When you want to GO You want DYNAFLOW
(We mean T.T. Dynaflow!)

THE GREATEST BUICK
IN 50 GREAT YEARS

No doubt about it—as thousands of prideful owners will tell you.
When you press the pedal of a 1953 Buick with Dynaflow, you move.
You move with instantly responsive getaway, with great quiet, with truly infinite smoothness. You move in this special and spirited and soul-satisfying manner because you're bossing Twin-Turbine Dynaflow—where two turbines, instead of one, now turn out the magic.
We can put pictures before you to show how TT Dynaflow delivers its sensational performance and flowing-oil smoothness. And we will, if you ask.
But surely you ought to take the wheel of a 1953 Buick with this big-thrill wonder drive and let your own sensations tell you how wonderful it is. You ought to try it for getaway, for cruising, for suave deceleration—for the sheer and restful comfort it gives you every step of the way. And, very definitely, you ought to try it for the power that goes with it.

For the highest horsepower and compression ratios, Series for Series, ever placed in a Buick—including the power of the world's newest V8 engine in every SUPER and ROADMASTER.
Why not come in and try out this terrific performance team of Buick power and TT Dynaflow? We're ready, willing and eager to show you what you've been missing—and how easy it is, price-wise, to have it. Can you drop in, on us for a no-obligation sampling—this week?

HILTON SERIES show for BUICK
—in the BUICK-BERLE SHOW on TV
Tuesday evenings. Also, every Saturday, Tune In The TV Football Game of the Week—a "GM" Key Event

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

DUBLIN BUICK COMPANY

Seventh at Maple Street Phone 500 Murray, Kentucky

Sunday's Church Services

Murray Church of Christ
7th & Poplar Phone 391
William D. Medaris, Minister
Regular Program: Sunday: Bible Study begins 9:45
Subjects: a. m. "The Chast of Discipline" p. m. "The Publican Whom Jesus Called."
Monday: College students, basement, Library Building 7 p. m.
Tuesday: Women's Bible Class at church, 2 p. m.
Spiritual Guidance radio, daily Monday through Friday 12-30 a. 12-45.

College Presbyterian Church
1601 Main Street
Rev. Orval Austin, Minister
Church School ..... 9:30
Morning Worship ..... 10:30
P.Y.E. .... 4:30
Westminster Fellowship ..... 6:30
Wed. Prayer Service ..... 7:30 p. m.
Visitors Welcome

Chestnut Street Tabernacle
Rev. William McKinney, Pastor
Phone 1029-R
Sunday School ..... 11 a. m.
Morning Worship ..... 11 a. m.
Sunday P. Y. E. A ..... 7:45 p. m.

The First Christian Church
111 N. Fifth St.
Harrywood Gray, Pastor
Church School ..... 9:30
Morning Worship ..... 10:30
Christian Youth Fellowship at 6:30 p. m.
Evening Worship ..... 7:30
Subject: "To Care and Not To Care"

The First Methodist Church
Fifth and Maple St.
Paul T. Lyles, Pastor
Sunday School ..... 10:30 a. m.
Morning Worship ..... 11 a. m.
Evening Service, 7:30 Subject: "Why I Am a Christian"

The First Baptist Church
S. Fourth St.
Dr. H. C. Cline, Pastor
Church School ..... 10:30 a. m.
Morning Worship ..... 11 a. m.
Evening Worship ..... 7:30
Training Union ..... 7:30 p. m.

Memorial Baptist Church
Main street at 14th
S. K. Byler, Pastor
Sunday School ..... 9:30 a. m.
Morning Worship ..... 10:30 a. m.
Rev. Tom Francis, guest speaker

Baptist Training Union 6:15 p. m.
Evangelistic Hour ..... 7:45 p. m.
Rev. Tom Francis, guest speaker
Tuesday ..... 3:00 p. m.
H. L. Hardy Jr. chapter of R. A. A. meets at 1302 Poplar St.
Wednesday ..... 3:00 p. m.
Sunbeam Band meets at church, teachers & officers meeting 7:00
G. A. A. meeting at the church 3:00 p. m.
Prayer, Praise and Fellowship Service Wed. 7:30 p. m.

Elm Grove Baptist Church
Rev. Leonard Cole, Pastor
Sunday School ..... 10 a. m.
Morning Worship ..... 11 a. m.
Prayer and Bible Study Wednesday ..... 7:00 p. m.
Women's Missionary Service First Wednesday each month 7:00 p. m.
Sunbeam Band, Girl's Auxiliary and Royal Ambassadors meet

Kirksey Baptist Church
Half-Mile West of Kirksey
Otis Jones, Pastor
at church each Fourth Sunday
Sunday School ..... 10:00 a. m.
Morning Worship ..... 11:00 a. m.
Evening Worship ..... 7:00 p. m.
Preaching each First and Third Sunday.

The Church of God of Prophecy
South 8th and Story Ave.
Just one block south of Sycamore Street
Ted Ramsey, Pastor
Sunday School ..... 10:00 a. m.
Morning Worship ..... 11:00 a. m.
Evening Worship ..... 7:45 p. m.
Wed. Evening Worship 7:45 p. m.
We welcome everyone

College Church of Christ
104 N. 15th Street
Ernest Clevenger, Jr., Minister
Sunday Bible Study ..... 9:45
Morning Worship ..... 10:40
Evening Worship ..... 7:00
Monday College Class 7:00 p. m.
Wednesday Service 7:00 p. m.

Oak Grove Baptist Church
3 miles West of Hazel
Robert Clark, Pastor
Sunday School ..... 10:00 a. m.
Morning Worship ..... 11:00 a. m.
Evening Worship ..... 7:30 p. m.
Prayer Service ..... 8:00 p. m.

St. Leo's Catholic Church
North 12th Street
Mass Each Sunday at 8:30 a. m. and 9:30 a. m.
Mass Holy Days ..... 7:00

Seventh Day Adventist Church
Church in the Wilderness
Fifteenth and Sycamore
V. A. Chilson, Pastor
Sabbath School, Saturday ..... 9:30 a. m.
Morning Worship, Saturday 11:40
Tuesday Prayer Service 7:30 p. m.
Visitors Welcome

North Pleasant Grove Cumberland Presbyterian Church
"The Friendly Church"
Rev. Earl Phelps, Pastor
Services Every Sunday ..... 11:00 a. m.
Morning Worship ..... 11:00 a. m.
Evening Worship ..... 7:00 p. m.
We Welcome Everyone

Several Hundred Thousand Children Will Be Vaccinated With A New Vaccine For Polio

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

New York (UP)—Several hundred thousand children are about to be vaccinated with an experimental vaccine which its scientific developer and financial backer hope will abolish polio. It was made known today.

In Miami, Dr. Jonas E. Salk, scientific "father" of the vaccine, disclosed new tests with 474 children and adults that indicated further its complete safety and effectiveness. Here, in New York, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the financial planning tests with "hundreds of thousands of children" soon—perhaps within three or four months.

The medical advisory committee of the foundation—one for each state—have just completed a closed four-day conference at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., where plans were made for the scientific tests on a mass scale.

The vaccine should not be confused with gamma globulin, which is designed merely to minimize the effects of polio. The vaccine, if successful, would, to all intents and purposes, prevent it.

Everyone involved has supreme confidence in the vaccine. The fear is that public reaction will get out of hand and make a legislative testing of its effectiveness as a polio preventive, impossible.

The conferees at White Sulphur Springs discussed means of "persuading the public to permit the mass vaccinations to proceed scientifically. If the public demands vaccination for every child and organizes pressures to get it, many years will pass before anyone can know whether the vaccine is the answer to polio.

The mass vaccinations will be preceded by an intense public education campaign. Basil O'Connor, president of the foundation, said that as soon as the plans were complete, the details would be announced.

To mean anything, mass vaccinations will have to have "control" as many children who are not vaccinated as those who are. The vaccinations will have to be made during the time of the year—usually January, February, and March—when there is the least polio in the community.

The next step in this purely scientific testing, is to await the "polio season."

The incidence of polio among those vaccinated will be the test. Dr. Salk himself discussed "controlled" mass vaccinations in addressing the 22nd annual meeting of the American Academy of Pediatrics in Miami today. He said one method might be injecting alternate children with either the polio vaccine or a vaccine for another disease. Thus, there would be two "strictly comparable" groups.

Or, he added, the polio vaccine could be injected into children of a certain age—preferably the age which has shown the greatest susceptibility to polio. The comparisons could then be made with their younger and older brothers and sisters.

He disclosed that since his first report in the Journal of the American Medical Association, last March, he has injected the vaccine in various forms into 474 children and adults in Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, and in all forms it not only was safe—it stimulated the production of antibodies to fight all three polio viruses.

Salk, who is research professor of bacteriology at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine, has now vaccinated a total of 637 persons, mostly children, with the "killed" virus of the three forms of polio with results that were more or less uniform. One of the most important was proven safety. Not one of his subjects contracted even a mild case of polio.

Salk warned the doctors against assuming a "practical vaccine" is at hand. There are many unanswered questions. But "the studies are progressing satisfactorily. There have been no set-backs nor anything but revelations that shed more light on the course 'ahead,' he said.

Hunters Urged To Watch For Rare Birds

Washington, D. C.—The National Wildlife Federation today joined the National Audubon Society and other conservation organizations in urging Americans to "hold their fire" if they see a large, white bird this fall. It might be one of the few whooping cranes left alive in the world.

Through the month of October the surviving whoopers will be moving southward for unknown nesting sites in the far North. If they follow their traditional migration route, they will pass through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma to the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas gulf coast. They usually stop over for several days along the Platte River in Nebraska, resting and feeding.

At last count, made in April before the surviving birds headed northward from Arkansas, there were only 21 left. It remains to be seen, upon their return to the wintering area, whether the 1953 nesting season added to their numbers or additional losses have reduced the tiny flock.

Although strictly protected by Canadian and Federal regulations and by law in every state, two of the stateliest cranes were killed by gunners last fall. One died in Saskatchewan, the other in Kansas.

Standing four feet tall and having a wingspread of seven feet, the adult whooping crane is a conspicuous creature. In flight its long neck is outstretched in the direction of travel and its spindly legs trail behind. It is all white except for a reddish face, which may be difficult to see at a distance, and black wing-tips. The black wing-tips are easily discernible in good light.

The whooper is sometimes mistaken for a snow goose, white pelican, American egret, or whistling swan. But a sure way to avoid making a mistake, the National Wildlife Federation advised hunters, is to refrain from shooting at any large white bird. If you see a bird that might be a whooping crane, you are requested to report the location to the nearest conservation officer.

Hunters Urged To Watch For Rare Birds

Washington, D. C.—The National Wildlife Federation today joined the National Audubon Society and other conservation organizations in urging Americans to "hold their fire" if they see a large, white bird this fall. It might be one of the few whooping cranes left alive in the world.

Through the month of October the surviving whoopers will be moving southward for unknown nesting sites in the far North. If they follow their traditional migration route, they will pass through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma to the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas gulf coast. They usually stop over for several days along the Platte River in Nebraska, resting and feeding.

At last count, made in April before the surviving birds headed northward from Arkansas, there were only 21 left. It remains to be seen, upon their return to the wintering area, whether the 1953 nesting season added to their numbers or additional losses have reduced the tiny flock.

Although strictly protected by Canadian and Federal regulations and by law in every state, two of the stateliest cranes were killed by gunners last fall. One died in Saskatchewan, the other in Kansas.

Standing four feet tall and having a wingspread of seven feet, the adult whooping crane is a conspicuous creature. In flight its long neck is outstretched in the direction of travel and its spindly legs trail behind. It is all white except for a reddish face, which may be difficult to see at a distance, and black wing-tips. The black wing-tips are easily discernible in good light.

The whooper is sometimes mistaken for a snow goose, white pelican, American egret, or whistling swan. But a sure way to avoid making a mistake, the National Wildlife Federation advised hunters, is to refrain from shooting at any large white bird. If you see a bird that might be a whooping crane, you are requested to report the location to the nearest conservation officer.

Hunters Urged To Watch For Rare Birds

Washington, D. C.—The National Wildlife Federation today joined the National Audubon Society and other conservation organizations in urging Americans to "hold their fire" if they see a large, white bird this fall. It might be one of the few whooping cranes left alive in the world.

Through the month of October the surviving whoopers will be moving southward for unknown nesting sites in the far North. If they follow their traditional migration route, they will pass through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma to the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas gulf coast. They usually stop over for several days along the Platte River in Nebraska, resting and feeding.

At last count, made in April before the surviving birds headed northward from Arkansas, there were only 21 left. It remains to be seen, upon their return to the wintering area, whether the 1953 nesting season added to their numbers or additional losses have reduced the tiny flock.

Although strictly protected by Canadian and Federal regulations and by law in every state, two of the stateliest cranes were killed by gunners last fall. One died in Saskatchewan, the other in Kansas.

Standing four feet tall and having a wingspread of seven feet, the adult whooping crane is a conspicuous creature. In flight its long neck is outstretched in the direction of travel and its spindly legs trail behind. It is all white except for a reddish face, which may be difficult to see at a distance, and black wing-tips. The black wing-tips are easily discernible in good light.

The whooper is sometimes mistaken for a snow goose, white pelican, American egret, or whistling swan. But a sure way to avoid making a mistake, the National Wildlife Federation advised hunters, is to refrain from shooting at any large white bird. If you see a bird that might be a whooping crane, you are requested to report the location to the nearest conservation officer.

Hunters Urged To Watch For Rare Birds

Washington, D. C.—The National Wildlife Federation today joined the National Audubon Society and other conservation organizations in urging Americans to "hold their fire" if they see a large, white bird this fall. It might be one of the few whooping cranes left alive in the world.

Through the month of October the surviving whoopers will be moving southward for unknown nesting sites in the far North. If they follow their traditional migration route, they will pass through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma to the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas gulf coast. They usually stop over for several days along the Platte River in Nebraska, resting and feeding.

At last count, made in April before the surviving birds headed northward from Arkansas, there were only 21 left. It remains to be seen, upon their return to the wintering area, whether the 1953 nesting season added to their numbers or additional losses have reduced the tiny flock.

Although strictly protected by Canadian and Federal regulations and by law in every state, two of the stateliest cranes were killed by gunners last fall. One died in Saskatchewan, the other in Kansas.

Standing four feet tall and having a wingspread of seven feet, the adult whooping crane is a conspicuous creature. In flight its long neck is outstretched in the direction of travel and its spindly legs trail behind. It is all white except for a reddish face, which may be difficult to see at a distance, and black wing-tips. The black wing-tips are easily discernible in good light.

The whooper is sometimes mistaken for a snow goose, white pelican, American egret, or whistling swan. But a sure way to avoid making a mistake, the National Wildlife Federation advised hunters, is to refrain from shooting at any large white bird. If you see a bird that might be a whooping crane, you are requested to report the location to the nearest conservation officer.

Hunters Urged To Watch For Rare Birds

Washington, D. C.—The National Wildlife Federation today joined the National Audubon Society and other conservation organizations in urging Americans to "hold their fire" if they see a large, white bird this fall. It might be one of the few whooping cranes left alive in the world.

Through the month of October the surviving whoopers will be moving southward for unknown nesting sites in the far North. If they follow their traditional migration route, they will pass through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma to the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas gulf coast. They usually stop over for several days along the Platte River in Nebraska, resting and feeding.

At last count, made in April before the surviving birds headed northward from Arkansas, there were only 21 left. It remains to be seen, upon their return to the wintering area, whether the 1953 nesting season added to their numbers or additional losses have reduced the tiny flock.

Although strictly protected by Canadian and Federal regulations and by law in every state, two of the stateliest cranes were killed by gunners last fall. One died in Saskatchewan, the other in Kansas.

Standing four feet tall and having a wingspread of seven feet, the adult whooping crane is a conspicuous creature. In flight its long neck is outstretched in the direction of travel and its spindly legs trail behind. It is all white except for a reddish face, which may be difficult to see at a distance, and black wing-tips. The black wing-tips are easily discernible in good light.

The whooper is sometimes mistaken for a snow goose, white pelican, American egret, or whistling swan. But a sure way to avoid making a mistake, the National Wildlife Federation advised hunters, is to refrain from shooting at any large white bird. If you see a bird that might be a whooping crane, you are requested to report the location to the nearest conservation officer.

Hunters Urged To Watch For Rare Birds

Washington, D. C.—The National Wildlife Federation today joined the National Audubon Society and other conservation organizations in urging Americans to "hold their fire" if they see a large, white bird this fall. It might be one of the few whooping cranes left alive in the world.

Through the month of October the surviving whoopers will be moving southward for unknown nesting sites in the far North. If they follow their traditional migration route, they will pass through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma to the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas gulf coast. They usually stop over for several days along the Platte River in Nebraska, resting and feeding.

At last count, made in April before the surviving birds headed northward from Arkansas, there were only 21 left. It remains to be seen, upon their return to the wintering area, whether the 1953 nesting season added to their numbers or additional losses have reduced the tiny flock.

Although strictly protected by Canadian and Federal regulations and by law in every state, two of the stateliest cranes were killed by gunners last fall. One died in Saskatchewan, the other in Kansas.

Standing four feet tall and having a wingspread of seven feet, the adult whooping crane is a conspicuous creature. In flight its long neck is outstretched in the direction of travel and its spindly legs trail behind. It is all white except for a reddish face, which may be difficult to see at a distance, and black wing-tips. The black wing-tips are easily discernible in good light.

The whooper is sometimes mistaken for a snow goose, white pelican, American egret, or whistling swan. But a sure way to avoid making a mistake, the National Wildlife Federation advised hunters, is to refrain from shooting at any large white bird. If you see a bird that might be a whooping crane, you are requested to report the location to the nearest conservation officer.

Hunters Urged To Watch For Rare Birds

Washington, D. C.—The National Wildlife Federation today joined the National Audubon Society and other conservation organizations in urging Americans to "hold their fire" if they see a large, white bird this fall. It might be one of the few whooping cranes left alive in the world.

Through the month of October the surviving whoopers will be moving southward for unknown nesting sites in the far North. If they follow their traditional migration route, they will pass through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma to the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas gulf coast. They usually stop over for several days along the Platte River in Nebraska, resting and feeding.

At last count, made in April before the surviving birds headed northward from Arkansas, there were only 21 left. It remains to be seen, upon their return to the wintering area, whether the 1953 nesting season added to their numbers or additional losses have reduced the tiny flock.

Although strictly protected by Canadian and Federal regulations and by law in every state, two of the stateliest cranes were killed by gunners last fall. One died in Saskatchewan, the other in Kansas.

Standing four feet tall and having a wingspread of seven feet, the adult whooping crane is a conspicuous creature. In flight its long neck is outstretched in the direction of travel and its spindly legs trail behind. It is all white except for a reddish face, which may be difficult to see at a distance, and black wing-tips. The black wing-tips are easily discernible in good light.

The whooper is sometimes mistaken for a snow goose, white pelican, American egret, or whistling swan. But a sure way to avoid making a mistake, the National Wildlife Federation advised hunters, is to refrain from shooting at any large white bird. If you see a bird that might be a whooping crane, you are requested to report the location to the nearest conservation officer.

Hunters Urged To Watch For Rare Birds

Washington, D. C.—The National Wildlife Federation today joined the National Audubon Society and other conservation organizations in urging Americans to "hold their fire" if they see a large, white bird this fall. It might be one of the few whooping cranes left alive in the world.

Through the month of October the surviving whoopers will be moving southward for unknown nesting sites in the far North. If they follow their traditional migration route, they will pass through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma to the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas gulf coast. They usually stop over for several days along the Platte River in Nebraska, resting and feeding.

At last count, made in April before the surviving birds headed northward from Arkansas, there were only 21 left. It remains to be seen, upon their return to the wintering area, whether the 1953 nesting season added to their numbers or additional losses have reduced the tiny flock.

Although strictly protected by Canadian and Federal regulations and by law in every state, two of the stateliest cranes were killed by gunners last fall. One died in Saskatchewan, the other in Kansas.

Standing four feet tall and having a wingspread of seven feet, the adult whooping crane is a conspicuous creature. In flight its long neck is outstretched in the direction of travel and its spindly legs trail behind. It is all white except for a reddish face, which may be difficult to see at a distance, and black wing-tips. The black wing-tips are easily discernible in good light.

The whooper is sometimes mistaken for a snow goose, white pelican, American egret, or whistling swan. But a sure way to avoid making a mistake, the National Wildlife Federation advised hunters, is to refrain from shooting at any large white bird. If you see a bird that might be a whooping crane, you are requested to report the location to the nearest conservation officer.

Hunters Urged To Watch For Rare Birds

Washington, D. C.—The National Wildlife Federation today joined the National Audubon Society and other conservation organizations in urging Americans to "hold their fire" if they see a large, white bird this fall. It might be one of the few whooping cranes left alive in the world.

Through the month of October the surviving whoopers will be moving southward for unknown nesting sites in the far North. If they follow their traditional migration route, they will pass through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma to the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas gulf coast. They usually stop over for several days along the Platte River in Nebraska, resting and feeding.

At last count, made in April before the surviving birds headed northward from Arkansas, there were only 21 left. It remains to be seen, upon their return to the wintering area, whether the 1953 nesting season added to their numbers or additional losses have reduced the tiny flock.

Although strictly protected by Canadian and Federal regulations and by law in every state, two of the stateliest cranes were killed by gunners last fall. One died in Saskatchewan, the other in Kansas.

Standing four feet tall and having a wingspread of seven feet, the adult whooping crane is a conspicuous creature. In flight its long neck is outstretched in the direction of travel and its spindly legs trail behind. It is all white except for a reddish face, which may be difficult to see at a distance, and black wing-tips. The black wing-tips are easily discernible in good light.

The whooper is sometimes mistaken for a snow goose, white pelican, American egret, or whistling swan. But a sure way to avoid making a mistake, the National Wildlife Federation advised hunters, is to refrain from shooting at any large white bird. If you see a bird that might be a whooping crane, you are requested to report the location to the nearest conservation officer.

Hunters Urged To Watch For Rare Birds

Washington, D. C.—The National Wildlife Federation today joined the National Audubon Society and other conservation organizations in urging Americans to "hold their fire" if they see a large, white bird this fall. It might be one of the few whooping cranes left alive in the world.

Through the month of October the surviving whoopers will be moving southward for unknown nesting sites in the far North. If they follow their traditional migration route, they will pass through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma to the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas gulf coast. They usually stop over for several days along the Platte River in Nebraska, resting and feeding.

At last count, made in April before the surviving birds headed northward from Arkansas, there were only 21 left. It remains to be seen, upon their return to the wintering area, whether the 1953 nesting season added to their numbers or additional losses have reduced the tiny flock.

Although strictly protected by Canadian and Federal regulations and by law in every state, two of the stateliest cranes were killed by gunners last fall. One died in Saskatchewan, the other in Kansas.

Standing four feet tall and having a wingspread of seven feet, the adult whooping crane is a conspicuous creature. In flight its long neck is outstretched in the direction of travel and its spindly legs trail behind. It is all white except for a reddish face, which may be difficult to see at a distance, and black wing-tips. The black wing-tips are easily discernible in good light.

The whooper is sometimes mistaken for a snow goose, white pelican, American egret, or whistling swan. But a sure way to avoid making a mistake, the National Wildlife Federation advised hunters, is to refrain from shooting at any large white bird. If you see a bird that might be a whooping crane, you are requested to report the location to the nearest conservation officer.

Hunters Urged To Watch For Rare Birds

Washington, D. C.—The National Wildlife Federation today joined the National Audubon Society and other conservation organizations in urging Americans to "hold their fire" if they see a large, white bird this fall. It might be one of the few whooping cranes left alive in the world.

Through the month of October the surviving whoopers will be moving southward for unknown nesting sites in the far North. If they follow their traditional migration route, they will pass through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma to the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas gulf coast. They usually stop over for several days along the Platte River in Nebraska, resting and feeding.

At last count, made in April before the surviving birds headed northward from Arkansas, there were only 21 left. It remains to be seen, upon their return to the wintering area, whether the 1953 nesting season added to their numbers or additional losses have reduced the tiny flock.

Although strictly protected by Canadian and Federal regulations and by law in every state, two of the stateliest cranes were killed by gunners last fall. One died in Saskatchewan, the other in Kansas.

Standing four feet tall and having a wingspread of seven feet, the adult whooping crane is a conspicuous creature. In flight its long neck is outstretched in the direction of travel and its spindly legs trail behind. It is all white except for a reddish face, which may be difficult to see at a distance, and black wing-tips. The black wing-tips are easily discernible in good light.

The whooper is sometimes mistaken for a snow goose, white pelican, American egret, or whistling swan. But a sure way to avoid making a mistake, the National Wildlife Federation advised hunters, is to refrain from shooting at any large white bird. If you see a bird that might be a whooping crane, you are requested to report the location to the nearest conservation officer.

Hunters Urged To Watch For Rare Birds

Washington, D. C.—The National Wildlife Federation today joined the National Audubon Society and other conservation organizations in urging Americans to "hold their fire" if they see a large, white bird this fall. It might be one of the few whooping cranes left alive in the world.

Through the month of October the surviving whoopers will be moving southward for unknown nesting sites in the far North. If they follow their traditional migration route, they will pass through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma to the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas gulf coast. They usually stop over for several days along the Platte River in Nebraska, resting and feeding.

At last count, made in April before the surviving birds headed northward from Arkansas, there were only 21 left. It remains to be seen, upon their return to the wintering area, whether the 1953 nesting season added to their numbers or additional losses have reduced the tiny flock.

Although strictly protected by Canadian and Federal regulations and by law in every state, two of the stateliest cranes were killed by gunners last fall. One died in Saskatchewan, the other in Kansas.

Standing four feet tall and having a wingspread of seven feet, the adult whooping crane is a conspicuous creature. In flight its long neck is outstretched in the direction of travel and its spindly legs trail behind. It is all white except for a reddish face, which may be difficult to see at a distance, and black wing-tips. The black wing-tips are easily discernible in good light.

The whooper is sometimes mistaken for a snow goose, white pelican, American egret, or whistling swan. But a sure way to avoid making a mistake, the National Wildlife Federation advised hunters, is to refrain from shooting at any large white bird. If you see a bird that might be a whooping crane, you are requested to report the location to the nearest conservation officer.

Hunters Urged To Watch For Rare Birds

Washington, D. C.—The National Wildlife Federation today joined the National Audubon Society and other conservation organizations in urging Americans to "hold their fire" if they see a large, white bird this fall. It might be one of the few whooping cranes left alive in the world.

Through the month of October the surviving whoopers will be moving southward for unknown nesting sites in the far North. If they follow their traditional migration route, they will pass through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma to the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas gulf coast. They usually stop over for several days along the Platte River in Nebraska, resting and feeding.

At last count, made in April before the surviving birds headed northward from Arkansas, there were only 21 left. It remains to be seen, upon their return to the wintering area, whether the 1953 nesting season added to their numbers or additional losses have reduced the tiny flock.

Although strictly protected by Canadian and Federal regulations and by law in every state, two of the stateliest cranes were killed by gunners last fall. One died in Saskatchewan, the other in Kansas.

Standing four feet tall and having a wingspread of seven feet, the adult whooping crane is a conspicuous creature. In flight its long neck is outstretched in the direction of travel and its spindly legs trail behind. It is all white except for a reddish face, which may be difficult to see at a distance, and black wing-tips. The black wing-tips are easily discernible in good light.

The whooper is sometimes mistaken for a snow goose, white pelican, American egret, or whistling swan. But a sure way to avoid making a mistake, the National Wildlife Federation advised hunters, is to refrain from shooting at any large white bird. If you see a bird that might be a whooping crane, you are requested to report the location to the nearest conservation officer.

Hunters Urged To Watch For Rare Birds

Washington, D. C.—The National Wildlife Federation today joined the National Audubon Society and other conservation organizations in urging Americans to "hold their fire" if they see a large, white bird this fall. It might be one of the few whooping cranes left alive in the world.

Through the month of October the surviving whoopers will be moving southward for unknown nesting sites in the far North. If they follow their traditional migration route, they will pass through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma to the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas gulf coast. They usually stop over for several days along the Platte River in Nebraska, resting and feeding.

At last count, made in April before the surviving birds headed northward from Arkansas, there were only 21 left. It remains to be seen, upon their return to the wintering area, whether the 1953 nesting season added to their numbers or additional losses have reduced the tiny flock.

Although strictly protected by Canadian and Federal regulations and by law in every state, two of the stateliest cranes were killed by gunners last fall. One died in Saskatchewan, the other in Kansas.

Standing four feet tall and having a wingspread of seven feet, the adult whooping crane is a conspicuous creature. In flight its long neck is outstretched in the direction of travel and its spindly legs trail behind. It is all white except for a reddish face, which may be difficult to see at a distance, and black wing-tips. The black wing-tips are easily discernible in good light.

The whooper is sometimes mistaken for a snow goose, white pelican, American egret, or whistling swan. But a sure way to avoid making a mistake, the National Wildlife Federation advised hunters, is to refrain from shooting at any large white bird. If you see a bird that might be a whooping crane, you are requested to report the location to the nearest conservation officer.

Hunters Urged To Watch For Rare Birds

Washington, D. C.—The National Wildlife Federation today joined the National Audubon Society and other conservation organizations in urging Americans to "hold their fire" if they see a large, white bird this fall. It might be one of the few whooping cranes left alive in